Dear Parent/Carer

I am delighted to share with you that the students raised in excess of £3,300 for Fr Hudson's Caritas last week. This is in addition to the £6,000 raised since the start of the Jubilee year and with a few additional activities in the planning, we should reach our aim of £12,000 by the start of Advent. It has been wonderful for the students to learn and appreciate the work of Fr Hudson's Caritas throughout the year so they can recognise their actions as social actions and not merely fundraising for fundraising sake. A huge congratulations to all!

Thank you to all of you who attended our Sixth Form Open Evening on Wednesday evening. It was amazing to see the students from Painsley and beyond excited about their next steps and their futures. As a reminder, on Tuesday, 30th September Year 11 parents and students are welcome to our curriculum evening, followed by parents' evening. It is a crucial opportunity for all to hear key messages regarding the Year 11 curriculum, the support offered in school and how we can work in partnership throughout the year. It is the expectation that all Year 11 students are represented at the evening.

As we continue through the term together and the weather changes and brings its new challenges, I write to remind you of some key information regarding school attendance. As I am sure you will be aware, school attendance is both a national and Painsley priority due to the significant pastoral and academic benefits.

In February 2024, the Department for Education published 'Working Together to Improve School Attendance'. The changes to the law are introduced through the Education (Penalty Notices) (England) (Amendment) Regulations 2024 and came into effect from 19th August 2024. The changes to the regulations are significant, so it is important that all parents understand them so they can consider the consequences for themselves before taking leave in term time.

New two penalty notice limit in a three-year period

The three-year rolling period starts for parents when the first penalty notice is issued to them after the 19th August 2024.

- The first penalty notices for leave in term time will increase to £160 per parent per child but can be reduced to £80 per parent per child if paid within 21 days.
- If a second penalty notice is issued within three years of the first penalty notice, then this will be at a fixed rate of £160 per parent per child, with no reduction for early payment.
- A third penalty notice cannot be issued within the three-year period; therefore, the county council will deal with any further unauthorised leave through prosecution in the Magistrates Court. If the parent is found guilty, the potential fine is up to £1000.

National threshold for issuing penalty notices

Parents may have heard about the new national threshold for issuing penalty notices which has been set at 10 sessions (5 school days) of unauthorised absence in a rolling period of 10 school weeks. However, all cases will be referred to the local authority and they retain the discretion to issue a penalty notice before the threshold is met. For example, where parents are deliberately avoiding the national threshold by taking several term time holidays below threshold, or for repeated absence for birthdays or other family events. It is important for you to know that in the new regulations, we have no option but to inform the local authority of all unauthorised absence.

At Painsley Catholic College, every student has an attendance target of 97% and we are all here to support you, as parents, in ensuring students remain above this attendance target. Indeed, we will be in regular contact with you regarding attendance, whether that is to congratulate students on maintaining above 97% or indeed to support students if they dip below 96%, 92% or 90% respectively.

College attendance is considered important for several reasons as it plays a crucial role in a student's educational and personal development. Here are some key reasons why college attendance is highly valued:

Social Development: Attending college provides students with the chance to socialise, build friendships and develop important social skills. Interacting with peers and teachers helps students learn how to communicate, co-operate and navigate various social situations, which are valuable life skills.

Health and Wellbeing: College attendance can also have a positive impact on a student's health and wellbeing. Colleges often provide access to healthcare services, nutritious meals and support systems for students who may be experiencing difficulties at home.

Academic Achievement: Regular attendance allows students to participate in classroom activities, engage with the curriculum and interact with teachers and peers. This consistent engagement is essential for personal and academic success. Students who attend college regularly are more likely to feel a part of college and keep up with their work, understand the material and perform better on tests and exams.

Knowledge Acquisition: College is where students acquire new knowledge, develop critical thinking skills and gain the foundational skills they need for future education and employment. Consistent attendance ensures that students have the opportunity to learn and build upon their knowledge base.

Routine and Discipline: College attendance establishes a daily routine and teaches students the discipline required in life. It helps them develop time management skills, punctuality and a sense of responsibility, which are essential life skills that extend beyond the classroom.

Preparation for the Future: Regular college attendance sets a positive precedent for future responsibilities, such as employment or higher education. Employers and colleges often expect applicants to demonstrate a history of reliability and commitment, which consistent college attendance can reflect.

Legal Requirements: In England, there are legal requirements for college attendance up to the age of 16 and students are legally required to be in some form of education or training up to the age of 18. Parents or guardians can face legal consequences if their children do not attend college regularly, as education is considered a fundamental right for children.

Economic Impact: An educated workforce is essential for a country's economic development. By attending college regularly and completing their education, students are more likely to secure better job opportunities, earn higher incomes and contribute positively to their communities and societies.

Reducing Disparities: Ensuring that all students have equal access to education and attend college regularly can help reduce disparities and inequalities in society. It gives every child the opportunity to reach their full potential, regardless of their background or circumstances.

Civic Engagement: Education is vital for fostering civic engagement and active participation in society. Informed and educated citizens are more likely to engage in the democratic process, contribute to their communities and address societal challenges.

In summary, college attendance is important because it forms the foundation for a student's educational, social and personal development and it has far-reaching implications for their future success and the wellbeing of society as a whole.

As a result of the importance of college attendance, we have a number of systems to support you in ensuring your son/daughter attends college:

- All students and parents can monitor attendance via the Arbor app, which is live and personal to your son/daughter.
- All students have an Emmaus tutor and Pastoral Lead, who track and monitor attendance on a daily basis and are the first point of contact for any concerns.
- Attendance is praised through weekly and half-termly achievement points, rewards acts of worship, attendance awards and celebrations.
- A dedicated attendance team, including our Educational Welfare Worker (Mrs Barlow), who monitors daily attendance and will text, call and visit students who are not in college.
- Dedicated medical support for any student who requires it, including care plans and reasonable adjustments supported by medical evidence.
- A dedicated safeguarding and SEND team, who are actively engaged with attendance and poised to support students as required.

- Support from the local authority teams.

I remind you that any unavoidable absence due to illness is reported as soon as possible. This should be done by contacting reception on 01538 493777 by 8.30am. If we do not have contact from you on the first day of absence, you will receive a text message to prompt you to contact school.

I would kindly ask that medical appointments are taken outside of college time whenever possible. Routine appointments should always occur outside of the college day. Unavoidable medical appointments must be accompanied by medical evidence and presented when collecting your son/daughter or accompanying them to college. May I remind you that students are not allowed to leave the college site throughout the day and therefore must be collected for any necessary appointment.

Please be aware that punctuality is equally as important as attendance. Students must arrive at college at 8:35am ready for an 8:40am start and be prompt to lessons throughout the day. Indeed, the college day has been reviewed to support students across a large college site. Students who arrive beyond 8:40am without a valid reason will receive a U code on the register. 10 U codes in a given period of time result in the local authority issuing parents with a fine.

We know that you can have a significant effect on your child's attendance and we would really appreciate your help and support ensuring that your child comes to school every day so that they can get the best possible outcomes. We want to work with you to achieve this – please call or come in and meet us if there is anything we can do to support you or your child. We appreciate that every family's situation is unique. Therefore, please do not hesitate to contact your son/daughter's Emmaus tutor or Pastoral Lead in the first instance or Mrs Barlow (EWW).

The College Attendance Policy can be viewed on our website at www.painsley.co.uk.

Please be aware that as the weather turns, students are encouraged to bring a coat to school. Hoodies are not allowed in college, as they do not provide adequate protection from the elements. Students are welcome to wear their coats when moving between the sites, but are required to remove them on entry to the college buildings in order that they are ready to learn.

We look forward to the official launch of St Gabriel the Archangel Multi-Academy Trust, on Monday, 29th October. Painsley will be represented at the launch Mass with all students participating in a live stream of the Mass during the college day.

In the Gospel on Sunday, we hear the story of The Rich Man and Lazarus (Luke 16:19-31), which encourages us to reflect on the last time we turned our back on someone who needed our help.

Yours sincerely

R. A. Waugh
